

Join the Vancouver Writers Fest on YouTube for a series of inspiring youth events!

October 18–24, 2021

One of North America's largest literary festivals, this year the Vancouver Writers Fest offers 15 events for youth from K-12—each curated with the BC Curriculum in mind.

As schools continue to work around Covid-19 guidelines, the Vancouver Writers Fest will present youth events in 2021 on its YouTube channel with an all-star lineup of authors, including David A. Robertson, Susin Nielsen, Gordon Korman, Brian Selznick, Robin Stevenson, Wab Kinew, Xiran Jay Zhao, and more!

In addition, the Writers Fest has curated Pro-D Day Events specially for teachers with authors like Ian Williams, Gord Hill, Cherie Dimaline, Liz Howard, Arno Kopecky, Linden MacIntyre, and more. From talking about the Power of Graphic Novels and New Classics in the form of the Best Indigenous Writing today to discussing Black Literature from the Prairies and the Intricate Craft of Poetry, these events will leave teachers with exciting new ideas and topics for classroom discussions.

Writers in the Classroom – our popular series of workshops where we take authors to schools – continues virtually with a fantastic lineup of 15 authors.

Join us for inquiry-based learning events and the chance to interact with renowned authors in a stimulating, community atmosphere that students love.

See our website for details on ticket prices – many events are “Pay-What-You-Can.”
